Daily Thought.
When you hear one man trying to belittle another, it's a safe bet that the other is his superior.

Indian summer will now occupy the boards for a few days. Give it an encore.

Morse's friends are going to ask Taft to pardon him. Don't you feel sorry for him?

Honus Wagner and Ty Cobb would make good lecture cards. Wonder why some enterprising theatrical man has not thought of that.

Have a little patience, neighbor. It is not the psychological moment to spring that affidavit yet. You know Hazelpip has it. Let us play the game as we see it.

We want to see that Perkins' crook bridge before we side with Judge Lightfoot or Magistrate Broadfoot as to whether Bert Johnson should not have a little extra for the "nice job" he made of it.

"False abuse, vituperation, charges and countercharges without ground never have, and never will, avail anything for the political candidate who sees this way of gaining office at his opponent's expense. This has been the course selected by Mr. Hazelpip in his race for county judge, and as will always be the case the result is, telling," says the News-Democrat.

The News-Democrat should publish the charges Mr. Hazelpip has made and let its readers judge whether they are true or not. Everything that he has said is true, and Mr. Barkley's only defense has been that he is not responsible for the actions of any one but himself.

Mr. Hazelpip charges Mr. Barkley with being too hasty in settling with Smedley's bondsmen, and Mr. Barkley replies that the bondsmen were so nice about wanting to pay the shortage, and that Smedley had his books to show what that shortage was that he just made the settlement without any further investigation.

Mr. Hazelpip charges that nearly every county fund is exhausted on account of mismanagement, and Mr. Barkley offers no defense to this. "I am not responsible for that," is his answer.

Mr. Hazelpip says he is not attacking Mr. Barkley's personality nor the Democratic party, but is merely placing the record of the administrations before the voters, so they may judge whether it has been good or bad. He credits Mr. Barkley with doing many good things when he first went into office, but says his weakness has allowed others to close his eyes to wrongdoings.

PEARY DOES NOT DISCREDIT COOK.
After a month, busily spent by him and his friends and a few legal advisers in preparation, Peary gave his story out yesterday, in which he states his reasons for believing that Cook did not reach the pole. A careful perusal of the article by a layman leads to only one conclusion—that

Peary is basing his charges upon the word of two Eskimos, who are said to be ignorant and not credible. Unless he can produce some stronger evidence than that, the popular mind will give Cook full credit. Cook's attitude throughout the whole affair has been one to win him praise, while Peary has been criticized from one end of the country to the other for the way he and his friends have talked and acted. Dr. Dyche, head of the department of natural history of the University of Kansas, who made trips to the north as a member of both Cook and Peary parties, and who knows both explorers well, says Peary's statement, to him, is incredible. He says:

"The most astounding part of Commander Peary's story, it seems to me, consists of a statement that Dr. Cook got to the north part of the land bordering on the great Arctic ocean, the point for which he had striven for a month, enduring the hardships of intense cold and the rigors of arctic climate—with ample supplies, sleds and Eskimos all in first-class condition, and then simply turned back apparently for no reason.

"How unlikely it is that a man with over twenty years' arctic experience, fired with an ambition of a lifetime, would give up just at a time and place when one of the greatest trophies the world has to bestow upon a brave and daring explorer was standing within his reach, beckoning him to come on."

A woman suffragette broke in on Judge Gaynor, candidate for mayor of New York, to ask what about woman's suffrage, and like the wise man he is, he referred her to his wife.

Kentucky Kernels

Depot at Millersburg robbed and safe rifled.

Mrs. Lizzie Adair sues for divorce at Mayfield.

Miss Daisy Young, of Hickman, dies of lung trouble.

Mrs. Florence Maybrick visits penitentiary at Frankfort.

John C. Edmunds, Barren county farmer, commits suicide.

Ben W. Hall, of Mt. Sterling, nominated for county judge.

Two-year-old son of County Judge Sutton dies of croup at Beattyville.

Valuable saddle horse of J. L. Nicoll & Son, of Woodburn, poisoned.

Dr. H. P. Clark resigns as mayor of Falmouth to serve as census supervisor.

William Hopkins, of Louisville, oldest tanner south of the Ohio river, dies.

Albert G. Hamilton, of Elizabethtown, dies at Dawson Springs of dropsy.

Breathitt county court adjourns suddenly at Jackson after one day's session.

Two Democrats given heavy fines at Louisville for buying registration certificates.

Morris Wilcox, who killed John Montgomery in Barren county, held for murder.

A. D. McAllister, of Seattle, Wash., arrested at Bowling Green charged with forgery.

Postmaster Horace Wood, of Stanley, found guilty of embezzlement and fined $500.

Annual meeting of State Sunday School association will be held at Owensboro October 22-24.

THE PUBLIC FORUM.

Dr. Angell's Recipe for Keeping Young.

Dr. James B. Angell in reply to congratulations on the completion of his long term as president of the University of Michigan, telegraphs the world: "The lesson I have learned in my thirty-eight years' service is that life-long association with college students secures one the blessing of remaining optimistic and youthful in spirit.

This is a tribute of a kind which college students are not accustomed to receive from college presidents. Some good thing, it appears, may come out of Nazareth in spite of student dissipation and addiction to football. But the point is the excellence of the recipe Dr. Angell gives for keeping young. Kingsley's old Lord Sittire, it will be remembered, made it a point to "take the time from the rising young fellows, as every man ought who wished to go with the world."

Similarly Dr. Angell recognizes the importance of keeping in touch with the new generation from which come the bold spirits who set the pace for the world—who invent wireless telegraphy or pilot flying-machines or inspire the reforms which make for progress. By association with the young some of the enthusiasm for life may be retained which in the old is the best antidote for decay. It is a better remedy than son-milk microbes and much easier to take.—New York World.

Under-shirt Diplomacy.

Mr. Crane may be a very fine business man, but he is a very poor diplomat. He will probably retire now to Chicago, resume business and show Taft and Knox that there is some good in him anyhow by making fifteen or twenty million dollars.

Several years ago the term "Shirt Sleeve Diplomacy" was applied to our new method of dealing with foreign nations. We believe it began during the time when John Hay was secretary of state. At first we Americans took great pride in it, but Mr. Crane seems to have gone one step further than "Shirt Sleeve Diplo-

FOR YOUR HAIR.

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course it is understood that in none of these cases were the hair roots dead nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

When the roots of the hair are entirely dead and the pores of the scalp are glazed over, we do not believe that anything can restore hair growth.

When Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will do as above stated, it is not strange that we have such great faith in it and that we claim it will prevent baldness when used in time. It acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed and will not gum nor permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair and in every way give entire satisfaction simply come back and tell us and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it.

We join our endorsement to Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and sell it on its guarantee, because we believe it is the best hair tonic ever discovered. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at our store.—The Rexall Store—W. B. McPherson, Fourth and Broadway.

may" and created a form of "Under-shirt Diplomacy."

"Shirt Sleeve Diplomacy" was suggestive of a certain uncouthness on the part of the American character. It was a misnomer and was unfair to John Hay to so dub his methods.

Mr. Hay was the first American secretary of state who adroitly and magnificently brought the power of the United States into respect along the Yellow Sea. He made for the open door. He was strong in his diplomatic movements—forceful, and there was nothing in him of the boor, of the rough neck or of the collarless man.

It may be counted treason if we venture that a man with corns on his hands is not quite able to cope with the astute and long trained diplomats of Europe and Asia. If we may, but such is the fact, nevertheless.

Mr. Crane may have been a very fine groceryman, or ironmonger, but as to diplomacy, he shows himself to be "far away from headquarters."—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

DAVID HITTOFF BUYS THE POLLOCK BANKRUPT STOCK.

Trustee A. E. Boyd sold the stock of Louis Pollock, a bankrupt jeweler, yesterday to David Hittoff for $845, while an automobile was sold for $350. L. S. Shelton had a mortgage on the machine for $350 and there is a preferred claim for rent amounting to $250. Pollock's liabilities amount to about $2,000.

SOCIETY WOMEN'S HAIR.

A Simple Treatment That Will Make It Truly Fascinating—W. J. Gilbert Guarantees It.

Nowadays every up-to-date woman has radiant hair.

What a foolish creature a woman would be if she lost the opportunity to add to her attractions.

Yet in America today there are hundreds of thousands of women with harsh, faded characterless hair who do not make any attempt to improve it.

In Paris most women have beautiful hair, and in America all women who use Parisian Sage have lustrous and luxuriant hair.

And any woman reader of The Sun can have attractive and lustrous hair in a few days' time by using this great hair rejuvenator, Parisian Sage.

W. J. Gilbert sells a large bottle for 50 cents and he guarantees it to remove dandruff, stop falling hair and healing scalp in two weeks or money back.

Parisian Sage is an ideal hair tonic not sticky or greasy and is sold by leading druggists everywhere. The girl with Auburn hair is on every bottle. Mail orders filled by American makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE "SMITHS" ARE REMARKABLE FAMILY

AND HAVE "REMARKABLE" LOT OF NICKNAMES.

Two Generations of Them Are Steamboat Pilots on the Local Rivers.

NEVER HAD AN ACCIDENT

Paducah can boast of a second generation of steamboat pilots and seldom is there as remarkable a family, with all pilots, as there is in the Smith family. It is said that during their service on the rivers none have met with an accident, and this is as remarkable a record as the fact that all are star gazers.

The list is: William H. (Yaller Dam) Smith, Joseph N. Smith, "Paducah Billy" Smith, George Smith, "Louisville Billy" Smith, Roy Smith, Nathan and Dennis Smith. William and Joseph Smith are both pilots on the towboat I. N. Hook, at Paducah. The former is known to river men as "Yaller Dam" Smith and few know his Christian name. "Paducah Billy" Smith is a pilot on the Clyde and his father, a former pilot, is a ship caulker at the marine ways. George Smith is distantly related to Joe and "Yaller Dam" and is a pilot on the Kentucky. He was married to a daughter of "Yaller Dam" and is a Kentuckian.

"Louisville Billy" is a pilot on the towboat Reaper, owned by the West Kentucky Coal company, but is no relation to Joe and "Yaller Dam." Roy Smith is steersman on the Kentucky and is the son of "Yaller Dam." Dennis Smith, pilot on the Dick Fowler, is the son of Joe Smith. Another pilot by the name of Smith is Nathan, who has been piloting the Ayer & Lord Tie company's towboats for several years. He came here from Clinton, Tenn., and is not related to Joe and "Yaller Dam."

The fact that there are so many Smiths and all of them pilots is significant and has been often commented on by rivermen. Joseph N. Smith, deceased, was the father of "Yaller Dam" and Joe. He piloted for years on the Mississippi river on the noted Red Cloud steamboat. He is said to have never met with an accident during his career. The Red Cloud sank in the Missouri river. Efforts have been made by his sons to trace back the history of the family, but they can go no further back. It is supposed there were several generations of pilots by this name and a distant relationship among all.

HAZELIP AGAIN ATTACKS RECORD

the bonding company 5 per cent commission for Smedley's collecting the money and sticking it into his own pocket, as well as casting aside all of the penalties due by the bonding company. Then, he said, Mr. Barkley took the 20 per cent for collecting the sum, which was due him (Barkley) off of the amount due the county instead of requiring the bonding company to pay the commission, and turning over to the county the whole amount due.

Mr. Barkley made a defense of his actions in the Smedley settlement, and devoted much of his time to explaining his action. He was not in such a great hurry, but said the bonding company had acted so nice that he thought the bonding company should receive the commission due Smedley for collecting the money. He said the state auditor had given him permission to not follow out the statute in regard to collecting the penalties.

Mr. Hazelpip gave Mr. Barkley credit for the long list of duties he had performed and congratulated him upon them, but said a study had revealed the fact that nearly every duty was done at the first of his administration, before Mr. Barkley had become eligible for membership to the secret society known as "the gang." Since his admittance, Mr. Hazelpip said, Mr. Barkley has responded to every jerk on the ring through his nose. He showed how Mr. Barkley was nominated for county judge without opposition because of the Chinese wall around the office. Mr. Barkley told the story of Mr. Hazelpip's running for police judge, and Mr. Hazelpip responded that he was a candidate for police judge before the rottenness of "the gang" had come to light. Then, he said, he realized the voters were sick and tired of the machine, so sought the nomination for county judge on the Republican ticket.

Tonight the debate will be held at Lone Oak, and one of the largest audiences of the campaign is expected. Saturday afternoon Ragland will be the scene of action, while Saturday night Maxon Mills will hear the gospel of reform. "The encouragement I have received from all over the county has stimulated me and many Democrats who have never scratched before say I will receive their support simply for the best interests of the county," said Mr. Hazelpip, last night.

O'DONAGHUE

MAY BE CHOSEN AS BISHOP OF LOUISVILLE.

Friends of Indianapolis Prelate Are Hopeful That He Will Head the Diocese.

The bishops of the province of Cincinnati, held a meeting at the residence of Bishop Moeller, in Cincinnati yesterday, for the purpose of discussing the selection of a bishop to succeed the late Rt. Rev. Bishop McCloskey, and, although the strict rule of the church imposes the seal of silence upon all that transpires at such meetings, it is hoped by the friends of the Rt. Rev. Dennis O'Donaghue, auxiliary bishop of the diocese of Indianapolis, that he will be finally chosen. It is not believed that his appointment would have opposition from the Louisville clergy, representing 165,000 Catholics.

Those attending the meeting were Bishops Chatard, of Indianapolis; Alender, of Ft. Wayne; Maes, of Covington; Byrne, of Nashville; Foley, of Detroit; Richter, of Grand Rapids; Hartley, of Columbus, and Farally, of Cleveland.

In Indianapolis, Bishop O'Donaghue takes an active part in civic affairs, and is much sought after as a platform lecturer. He is a man of most engaging personality, a diplomat and a fine business man.

MEXICO REMOVES TARIFF ON CORN TO RELIEVE POOR.

Mexico City, Oct. 15.—The Mexican congress today passed a bill temporarily exempting corn from tariff duty. Large quantities hereafter will be bought in the United States to relieve the famine sufferers. Loss of crops on account of early frosts and floods has caused the price of corn to soar so high the poor can't afford to buy it.
